REWARI, OCTOBER 19

Governor Bandaru Dattatreya has called upon educationists to make students proficient in terms of skill and innovation as per local requirements along with imparting them quality education. If the youth have skills and cutting-edge technical knowledge, they will not face any problem in getting employment.

Dattatreya said this while addressing teachers and students after inaugurating the Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav at Indira Gandhi University (IGU) on Tuesday. He also laid the foundation stone for the waterworks, inaugurated the newly constructed

Vikram Sarabhai video conference room and unveiled the portrait of former Prime Minister Atal Bihari Vajpayee and Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose on the campus.

“The purpose of education is not only to get a job but to contribute to the development of the region and the country by working on new ideas with newer skills. The youth should move ahead in life with an open mind and thoughts and by getting knowledge of new subjects from the university for which they should be grateful to their institution throughout their life,” said the Governor.

He also interacted with research scholars and students of the pharmaceutical department besides reviewing the progress and future projects of the university. He asked the teachers to be updated with the latest technology.

Prof SK Gakhar, Vice-Chancellor, IGU, made a powerpoint presentation, highlighting different aspects of the university and new initiatives taken to promote research work and to strengthen infrastructure of the university.

The university students presented cultural programmes including yoga, mime, and patriotic songs while the Governor also honoured meritorious students on the occasion.
